

Congratulations to Butler Shaffer after 40 years at Southwestern!

My Calculated Chaos book provided me the opportunity to discover the most important thing about writing: to explore and learn about something I hadn't fully understood before. Writing that does not better inform the writer is both a drudgery and waste of time.

